10. (05 Min.) Legal Update – Kevin McKenna: Given in Executive Session

11. (35 Min.) William C. Wade – CEO Update:
   • COVID-19 Update:
     • Mr. Wade stated that we were ready and prepared. The (CEP) continuity of education plan was created before the State required it of us.
     • Dr. Spradley asked how are we serving our special needs community and what is the plan for their success?
     • Stephanie Faith spoke to the specific things the school is doing to educate special needs students through the COVID-19 circumstances.
     • Jerry Cozewith asked what percentage of students are connected to small group instruction and being engaged? Ms. Faith expressed the percentage of students who participate is growing with each week and daily attendance checks are being done to monitor growth. Mr. Cozewith would like to know the percentage of students participating in virtual learning presented at the May meeting.
     • Virtual learning is now driven by parents. Grade level principals are reaching out to parents on a daily basis in hopes of engaging students that are not yet participating.
Ms. Potter stated that weekly grade level meetings are taking place where teachers are strategizing on unique ways to engage students.

Ms. Davis asked how is the social/emotional well-being of the students being met? Dr. Roberto stated that Ms. Fickley (school counselor) is calling 30-40 parents daily to check in on students and their well-being. Mr. Cooke (student services) is also making daily phone calls to families.

Ms. Davis asked how are the Specials classes being met during closure? the STEM teacher has a Google classroom set up and materials available on the website. Art and PE/Yoga have a list of of art therapy and exercise resources available for students on the website. The music teacher posted a mega list of music on the website and is in the process of creating YouTube and Google Classrooms interactives for students.

Mr. Washington asked how are we successfully engaging our families during the closure? Mr. Wade expressed that we are engaging our families/students through creativity and innovation. The CEO challenge is just one initiative where students can participate and receive a gift card. Ms. Potter provided ways in which the school is trying to engage families and students.
