Are you or someone you know a current 9th-12th grader who has an interest and passion for filmmaking? Want to spend your Fall semester learning all the skills needed and make original projects to call your own? Then you HAVE to check out our SteelTown Film Academy!

SteelTown Film Academy offers a valuable and unforgettable opportunity for high school students to learn professional film production. Students sign on for 12 weeks of hands-on production training—from camera to lighting to editing and more! Filmmakers will end the term with a finished short film and the opportunity to apply for a next level position as part of SteelTown's Teen Film Crew!
