150 Women Who Lead to Engage Middle-Grade Students in Career Exploration to Close Women’s History Month in PPS

What: Women’s History Month is ending, but not before 150 professionals from across the city join Superintendent Wayne N. Walters for the District’s first Women Who Lead. To celebrate the groundbreaking work women have achieved, Dr. Wayne N. Walters will host Women Who Lead at 27 schools across the District this Friday, March 31, 2023. Approximately 150 leading women from various career paths, including - entrepreneurs, executives, doctors, lawyers, engineers, educators, politicians, advocates, community champions, and more - have dedicated time to support the middle school (grades 6-8) career exploration day. The women will share their journey and career paths with students, exposing all students to the multiple career opportunities available in our area and beyond.

When/Where: Friday, March 31, 2023
Media is invited to join the Superintendent as he welcomes women at two locations:

Pittsburgh Sunnyside                      9:30 AM – 10:00 AM
4801 Stanton Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15201

Pittsburgh King                              10:30 AM – 11:00 AM
50 Montgomery Place, Pittsburgh, PA 15212

WHY: As part of his five priorities to improve culture, systems, and instruction in Pittsburgh Public Schools, Superintendent Wayne N. Walters has identified the need to expand stakeholder communications and partnerships. Women Who Lead provides an opportunity to celebrate Women’s History Month while taking an innovative approach to expanding partnerships and providing career exploration opportunities for students.
