Four Pittsburgh Public Schools Students to be Recognized at the 2007 NORESKO Energy Education Scholarship Awards Luncheon

PITTSBURGH, May 30, 2007– Four Pittsburgh Public Schools high school students, three seniors from Schenley High School and one senior from Taylor Allderdice High School, will receive $4,000 each at the 2007 NORESKO Energy Education Scholarship Awards Luncheon on Thursday, May 31 2007 at 11:45 a.m. The luncheon will be held at the Holiday Inn Select University Center in Oakland located at 100 Lytton Avenue.

As an Energy Partner, NORESKO has offered energy education scholarship awards to outstanding engineering seniors of Pittsburgh Public Schools. Students were selected from a pool of applicants and the selection was based on the student’s exemplary academic achievements, grade point average, extracurricular activities and the desire to pursue higher education in engineering from an accredited College or University of their choice.

NORESKO is an energy service company with the primary focus on energy efficiency improvements and the energy infrastructure integrity for institutional facilities throughout the United States.
