STATEMENT FROM THE PITTSBURGH BOARD OF PUBLIC EDUCATION

PITTSBURGH – The Pittsburgh Board of Public Education has read the Pennsylvania Ethics Commission Report following its release on the government agency’s website last Thursday, August 26. The entire Board takes this Report and its findings very seriously.

Currently, we are addressing with the District’s Solicitor the various issues presented in the Report. Its findings are indeed concerning and a distraction for the District as we commence the new school year. In the coming weeks, we will consider any appropriate actions to be taken, including addressing any internal control issues and other matters raised in the Report.

This is a serious matter, and the Board must give it the time it demands to assess the overall situation. The Board will have more to say at the conclusion of its evaluation.
